

PressTrack Namibia

Andreas Kandele & Paulus Iifo

BASECAMP
Think Outside

Introduction

Andreas Kandele, an aspiring entrepreneur who grew up in a small agricultural town called Grootfontein, where he attended his primary and secondary school then went to Unam and graduated with a diploma in local government and is currently a 2nd year student studying towards a bachelors hons in Business Administration.

Paulus Iifo, Artisan with trade in fitter & Tunner.

BASECAMP
Think Outside

The Problem

Namibia currently lacks a digital, efficient, and transparent system for media practitioner registration, feedback on Public Relations Officers (PROs), and direct reporting to the Media Ombudsman.

This results in inefficiencies, lack of public oversight, and cumbersome manual processes.

BASECAMP
Think Outside

The Solution

Digital Media Registration & Feedback Platform

Media Practitioner Registration: Secure, verified, and seamless online submission of credentials with options for media card delivery.

Public Media Register: A searchable, publicly accessible directory of certified media professionals.

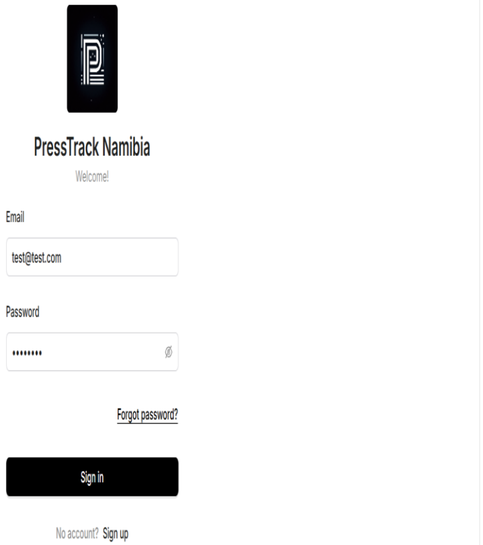

Public Feedback Mechanism: Rate and provide feedback on PROs from Ministries, Agencies, and Organizations (OMAs), with integrated sentiment analysis.

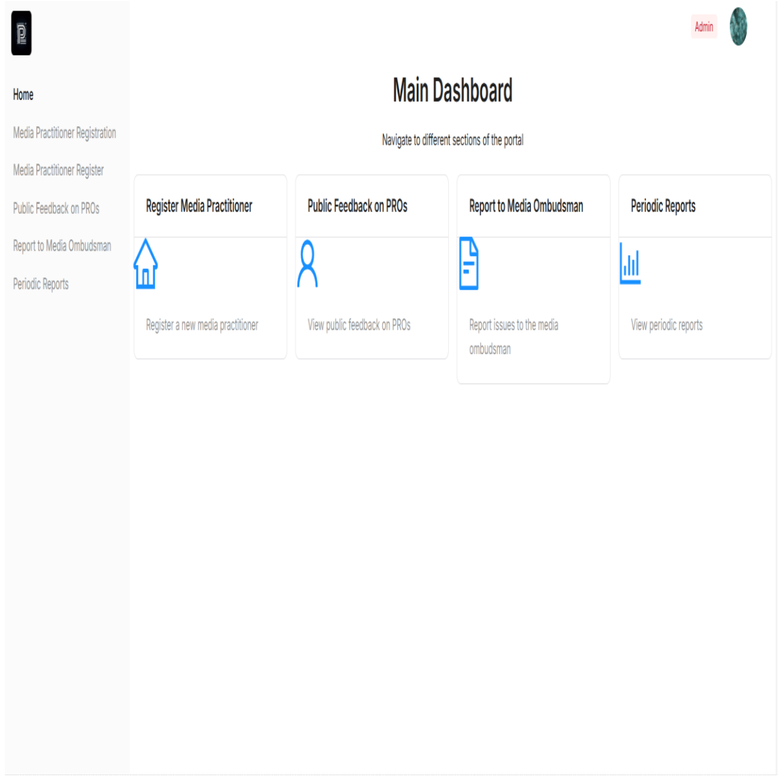

Reporting System: Direct reporting to the Media Ombudsman for citizen claims against media professionals and government PROs.

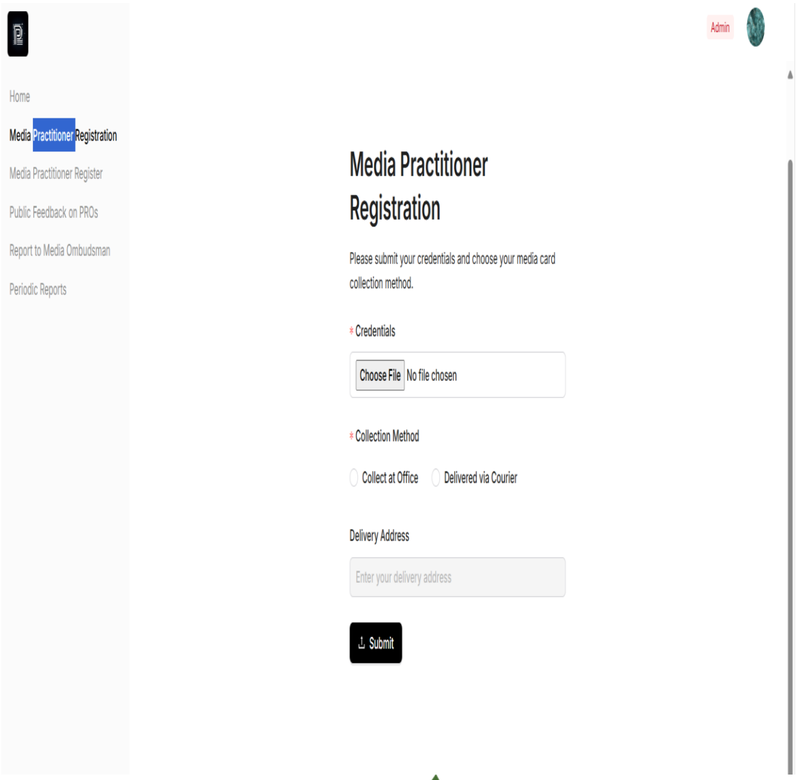

BASECAMP
Think Outside

Screenshots of the solution

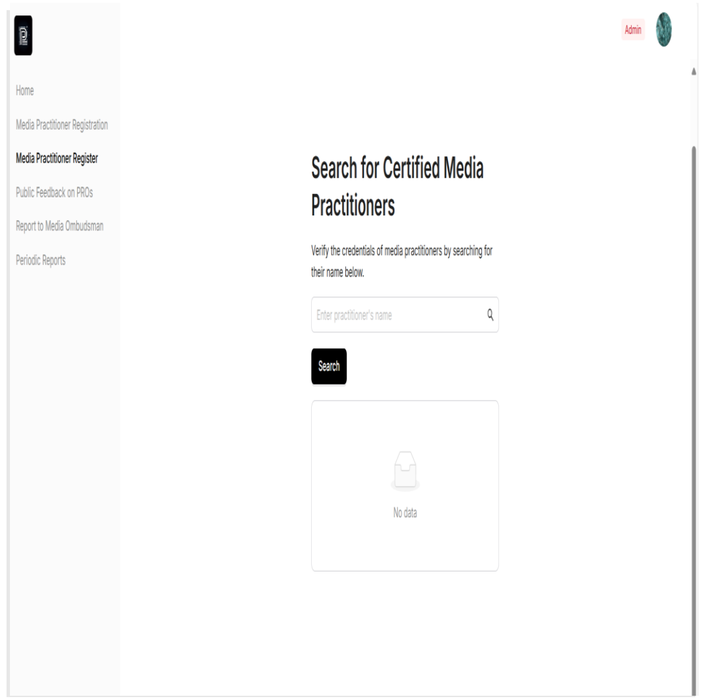

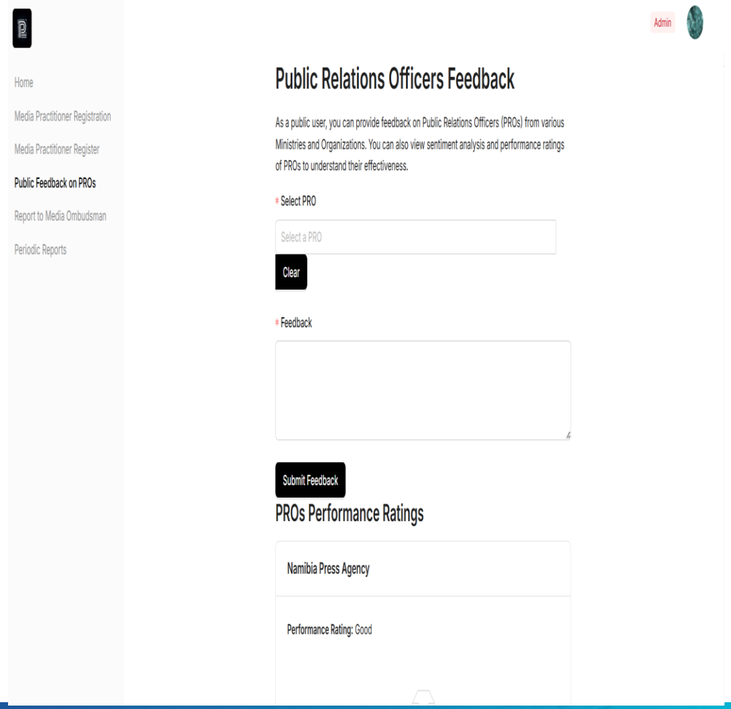

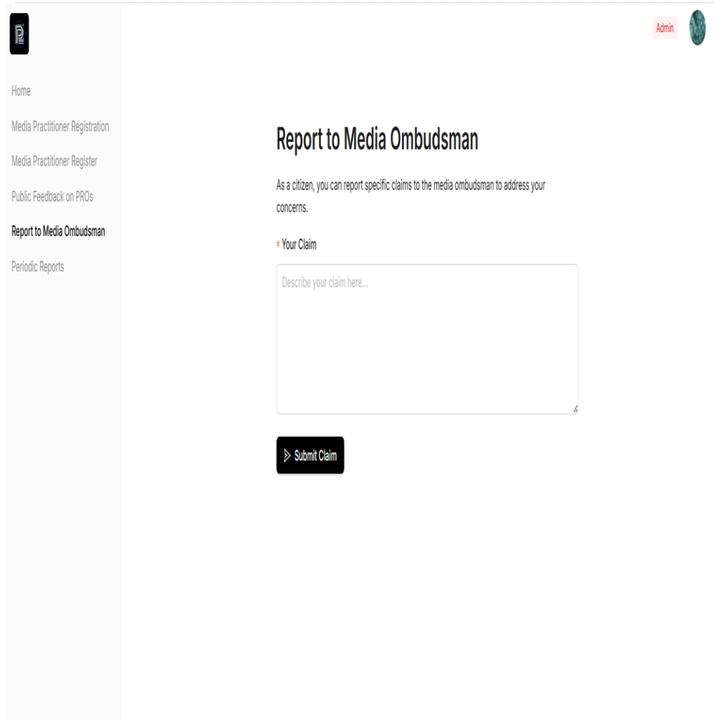

BASECAMP
Think Outside

Screenshots of the solution features

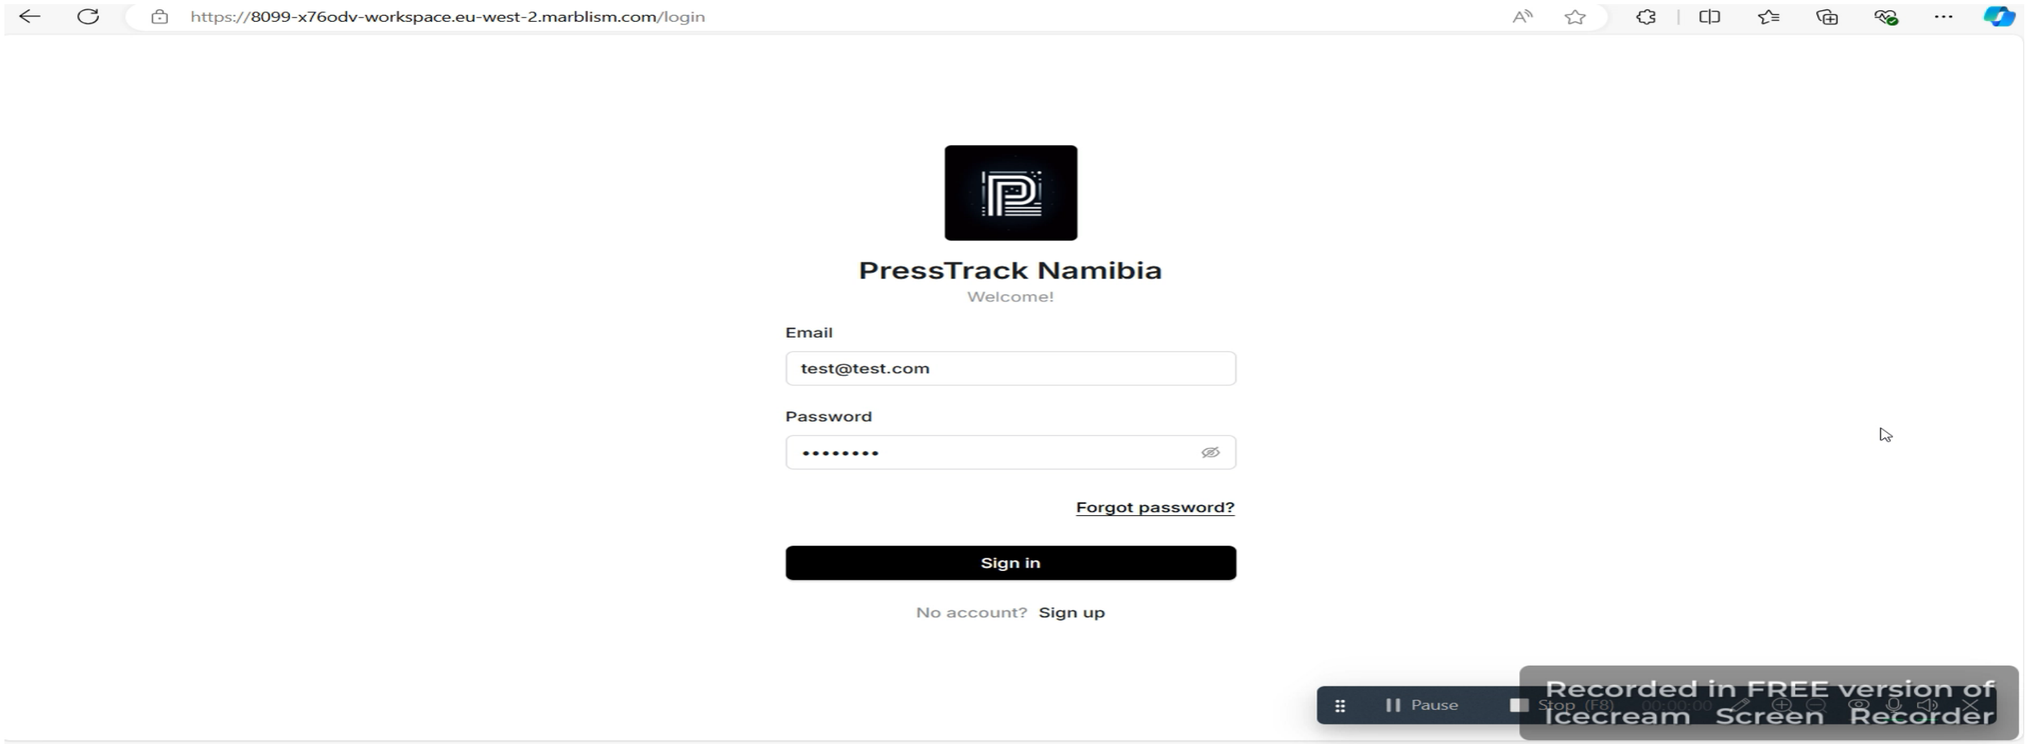

1 minute Video screen recording of the solution showing how it works

BASECAMP
Think Outside

Team

Andreas Kandele

Project Lead

Paulus Iifo

Project Lead

BASECAMP
Think Outside

Conclusion

Value points:

- Streamlined Media Practitioner Registration
- Transparency & Accountability
- Enhanced Public Trust
- Improved Efficiency for Public Relations Officers
- Contribution to National Governance & Accountability Goals

BASECAMP
Think Outside